HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO:
Max (Y)

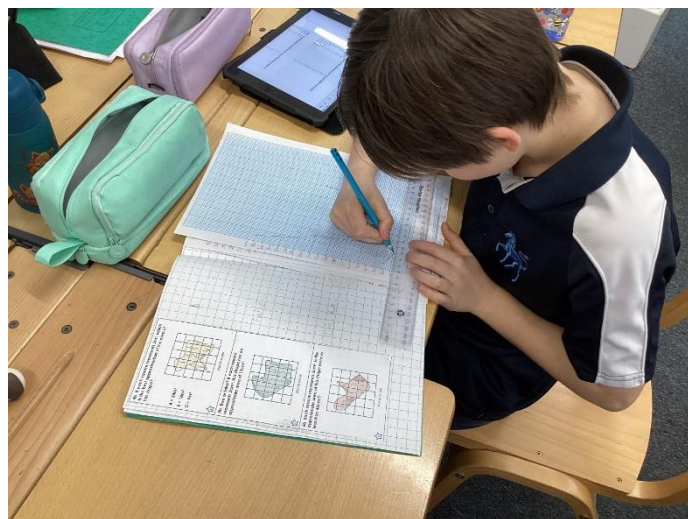

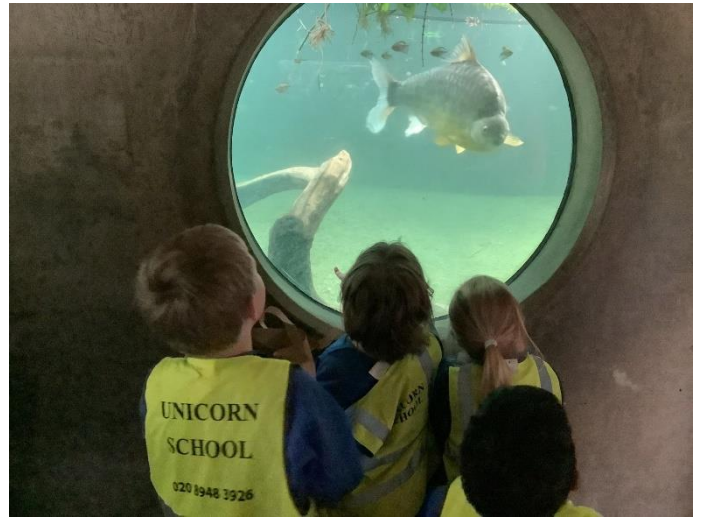

Arts Week - Madagascar

It's been an action-packed week as the whole school have been studying Madagascar. Classes have learnt all about the extraordinary range of flora and fauna, the wide variety of habitats and ecosystems, whilst also debating the issues of poverty on the island, the effects of deforestation and how different life is like in an equatorial country. Lessons have included plotting graphs comparing rainfall in different habitats on the island, reading stories from and about Madagascar, creating moving chameleon sculptures and beautiful glass paintings, and making vanilla ice cream. Everyone was very envious of Green Class!

Learning all about the unique and often bizarre ways that animals have evolved on the island has been a particular delight, from studying leaping ring tailed lemurs to the long-fingered aye-aye, as well as the spiky tenrec and the predatory fossa. All classes were lucky to enjoy a day of sunshine on Wednesday when they all visited and attended some brilliant workshops seeing many examples of the wonders of Madagascan plant life, which really brought to life all that the classes had learnt in their lessons at school. We hope you all enjoy hearing about the wonders of the island from your children!

Yellow Class' brilliant assembly

This week it was Yellow Class' time to shine. They held a brilliant assembly where they showcased some of the things they get up to in class. They told us so many interesting facts about the continents, oceans and the UK, recited poems in French and English and taught us about many significant people.

Their songs were so catchy and enhanced everything they told us. Each child had many words to remember and knew exactly what to say. Their smiles and enjoyment brought tears to some eyes. Well done Yellow Class!
